#1 RULE

The phrase "Garbage In, Garbage Out" (GIGO), popularized by IBM programmer George Fuechsel in the early 1960s, is crucial for understanding AI content generation.

It emphasizes that the quality, relevance, and accuracy of AI output directly depends on the quality of the input data. Essentially, if the Canva Code, or any AI tool, is fed flawed or inaccurate information, its generated content will reflect those deficiencies.

PROMPTING

- * START WITH THE GRADE LEVEL AND PURPOSE
- * MAKE YOUR FIRST PROMPT AS DETAILED AS POSSIBLE
- * DESCRIBE "CLICKABLE" BOXES AND BUTTONS
- * CHOOSE CALMING, PURPOSEFUL COLORS
- * ASK FOR SIMPLE, EASY-TO-READ LAYOUTS
- * CANVA HAS NEW LIMITATIONS ON PROMPTS

PRACTICE

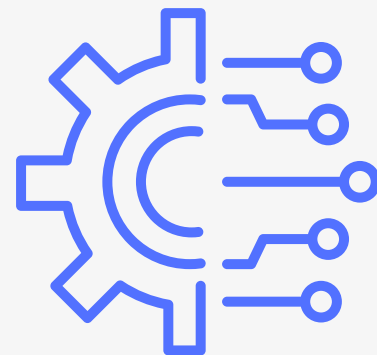

* I DO / WE DO / YOU DO *

DATA SHEETS

- * EACH SHEET SUPPORTS UP TO 999 ROWS AND 104 COLUMNS.
- * ALWAYS DO BETA TESTING BEFORE USING WITH ACTUAL STUDENTS
- * ANY CHANGES TO THE CODE MAKES A NEW SHEET!!!
