Guide Teachers to the Right Tools

- ✦ Recommend specific tools to teachers to reduce overwhelm.
- ✦ Provide a short list of tools by role, grade level, or current initiative.
- ✦ Use personalized access or curated tool lists to spotlight what matters most.
- ✦ Showcase Raina as a support when teachers know what they need, but don't know where to begin.

MagicStudent

Safe and secure AI tools for students

MagicStudent tools are great for supporting students with personalized learning, practice, and study aids. They help students:

- Understand concepts with clear explanations and examples
- Practice skills through interactive exercises and quizzes
- Get homework help and step-by-step solutions
- Prepare for tests with review materials and flashcards
- Explore topics at their own pace with engaging resources

Connect MagicSchool implementation to responsible use, teacher confidence, and student safety.

- ★ Teachers are the instructional decision makers.
- ★ AI outputs are reviewed, revised, and aligned to student needs.
- ★ Student-facing AI is structured.
- ★ Model responsible use through routines.

Responsible AI use is more than rules.

Purpose: Students are scored and categorized based on their activity level, which considers generations, tools used, and days active.

Usage Tip: Click on the name of a student to filter all data by that student to see which tools they used.

Leadership Action Plan

The Paradigm Shift: Reframing AI's Role in the Classroom

The Old Model

AI as an Answer Machine

Focus: Speed and Efficiency

Output: The Final Product

Student Role: Passive Consumer

The New Model

AI as a Thinking Partner

Focus: Depth and Creativity

Output: Iteration and Idea Generation

Student Role: Active Director

AI Generates. Teachers Decide.

- AI suggests.
- Teacher edits, add context, chooses based on students' needs and teacher expertise.

AI + Human Thinking = Powerful Learning

AI is the Thought-Partner

Remember:

- AI can help us build more sustainable routines so that we can focus on students, creativity, and innovation.
- ★ • MagicSchool can enhance, expand our thinking, and energize our work.

As you prepare, ask yourself:

1. What do students need to learn?
2. Where do they usually struggle?
3. What routine could AI support?
4. What will I customize?
5. How will I know students learned it?

Hope you enjoyed your ride
on the Magic School Bus!
