

Group Activity

CTE Scenarios and Working with your Administrators. What are they thinking?

This is a group activity. Please feel free to add your opinions and share your thoughts.

Presented by Brian Ellis
Agriculture Education
Instructor, Tonasket
School District

Kevin Young
Superintendent and CTE
Director
Tonasket School District

This presentation depends on audience participation.

Groups are encouraged.

Pick a speaker in your group.

We will provide common scenarios in all of our schools. Let's talk about the best ways to handle some,
to make the upcoming year
a little easier to navigate,
with your administration.

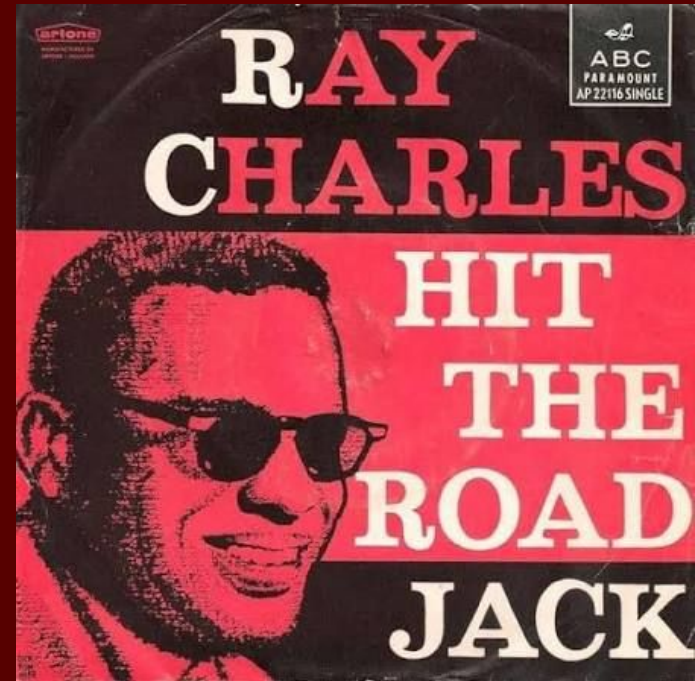

Introductions

Who are you?

What school are you from?

How many years of experience do you have?

Discipline

Scenario 1

One of your students has disrupted your class. You send the student to the office after you have tried “everything” and they come back with a smile and a sucker within five minutes. What is your next step?

<https://ospi.k12.wa.us/student-success/support-programs/student-discipline>

https://www.washingtonea.org/file_viewer.php?id=18006

Co Workers

Scenario 2

Your school just hired a new person in your CTE Department. They have been given more/less supplemental days than you.

Budget

Scenario 3

The budget that you have for the upcoming year is half of what you had last year. The CTE teacher in a different department got a bump up, and usually has fewer expenses than you.

<https://ospi.k12.wa.us/data-reporting/data-displays-and-maps/proposed-federal-cuts-k-12-education-map>

Advisory Boards

Scenario 4

The head of your advisory board met with your CTE Director and wants you to teach a unit that you are not trained in, because the last teacher did it.

<https://ospi.k12.wa.us/sites/default/files/2023-08/advisorybrochure.pdf>

Student Leadership vs. The World

Scenario 5

You have been preparing students for an upcoming event for your student leadership team. The athletic director added an unscheduled game and half of your team plays in that sport.

https://ospi.k12.wa.us/student-success/career-technical-education-cte/cte-res ources-essentials/21st-century-skills

Dual Credit – Who's running the show?

Scenario 6

Your CTE Director expects you to offer Dual Credit with the neighboring college. The college doesn't want to accept your classes. To offer the credits you need to take more credits. The school won't pay for it.

<https://ospi.k12.wa.us/student-success/support-programs/dual-credit-programs/course-based-dual-credit>

All images were found on Google
Images or AI Generated